

Ryan Voels was the only unanimous player of the year selection in Slinger Men's Basketball history. He was first team all-conference his junior and senior year, as well as team Captain. He was also first team all-county and player of the year in Washington County. Ryan played in the State All-Star game his senior year as well. His biggest accomplishment was winning the Parkland Conference with his team in the 1996-1997 season. Ryan was also Team Captain and second team all-conference for the Owls Soccer Team his senior year.

Ryan is married to his wife Jaime and he has three kids – Kylah, Jackson & Dylan. He is currently living in the Philadelphia suburbs and working as a Sales Consultant for a relocation company. He now spends his free time coaching his sons' basketball and baseball teams.

Ryan would thank his family, coaches, and teammates throughout his entire high school career. He understands that without them none of this would have been possible.
